

Agelenopsis pennsylvanica a grass spider

ORDER:ARANEAE INFRAORDER:Araneomorphae
FAMILY:Agelenidae

TAXONOMIC_COMMENTS: Agelenopsis pennsylvanica has enjoyed a relatively stable taxonomic history since having been originally described as Agelena pennsylvanica by C.L. Koch, 1843. It changed names a few times in the 19th Century, but has remained in Agelenopsis since 1941.

ONLINE_PHOTOS: <https://www.inaturalist.org/taxa/143215-Agelenopsis-pennsylvanica>

DISTRIBUTION_COMMENTS: Widespread through northern states, less common in the south.

HABITAT: old field, meadows, grassy areas, occasionally in open woods and on human structures; funnel/sheet web