

Phidippus clarus Red-backed jumping spider

ORDER:ARANEAE INFRAORDER:Araneomorphae
 FAMILY:Salticidae

FLD_GUIDE_DESCRIPTIONS: Males have iridescent, greenish chelicerae and broad red longitudinal bands bordering a central black stripe on the abdomen. Females are more diversely colored, having tan, yellow, orange, or red scales. There are usually two dark lines of abdominal spots surrounding light spots. Both sexes have two black stripes on the abdominal venter.

DISTRIBUTION_COMMENTS: Most of the continental US & southern Canada

HABITAT: old field, bog