

A BIRD Checklist for Carolina Beach State Park 248 taxa

Of the 473 species known from North Carolina, 248 have been recorded at the state park. Of these, 23 species are known to nest within the park. 12 are suspected of nesting. We would appreciate any report of sightings that increase our knowledge of the park's bird life.

Several coastal ecosystems are present in the park. Forests dominated by longleaf pine, turkey oak, and live oak occupy the dry, coarse soil of a series of relict sand dunes. Between the dunes are dense shrub swamps, called pocosins, populated by pond pines, loblolly and sweet bay, yaupon and evergreen shrubs. Brackish marshes consisting primarily of cordgrasses and sedges can be found beyond the relict dunes adjacent to the river.

Carolina Beach State Park is a great place for bird watching. Brown pelicans thrive in the coastal environment, and warblers, sparrows, and woodpeckers fill the woods. In summer, painted buntings, common yellowthroats and prairie warblers can be seen in the forest while ospreys populate Snow's Cut.

Besides providing habitat for resident land birds during the winter and summer, Carolina Beach State Park also is located along an important migration corridor and attracts many birds during their migrations.
